Rededication of Newspaper Hall of Fame To Be Held

15 May 1991

The Utah Press Association, founded in 1893, announces the rededication of the Newspaper Hall of Fame, to be held Thursday, May 16 at 2 p.m. in the newly-remodeled portion of the Utah State Capitol. Governor Calvin L. Rampton will dedicate the Newspaper Hall of Fame in a ceremony which will thank contributors and supporters of the press. A reception in the Capitol Rotunda will follow. All state legislators and heads of state government have been invited to attend. Governor Rampton first dedicated the Newspaper Hall of Fame in 1975.

Utah Press Association, the oldest trade association in the state, was founded when Utah was still a territory. In December, 1893, 11 publishers of the area's 45 newspapers gathered in Lehi and agreed to create, according to the Davis County Clipper, "a trade affiliation of editors who aimed to better Utah journalism, protect its interests, secure information, and enjoy all-libel laws of the territory, to prevent irresponsible persons from holding up a newspaper for thousands of dollars just because it tells the truth about them," and "the discussion of matters of great interest relating to legal notices and advertisements and the laws pertaining thereto."

To attain its goal of "bettering

Utah journalism," the association has held countless workshops and seminars, focusing on editorial quality. This effort is also evidenced by the Better Newspaper Contest, held annually for over 40 years. The contest brings out the best in member newspapers which compete in categories ranging from Best News Photo to General Excellence.
